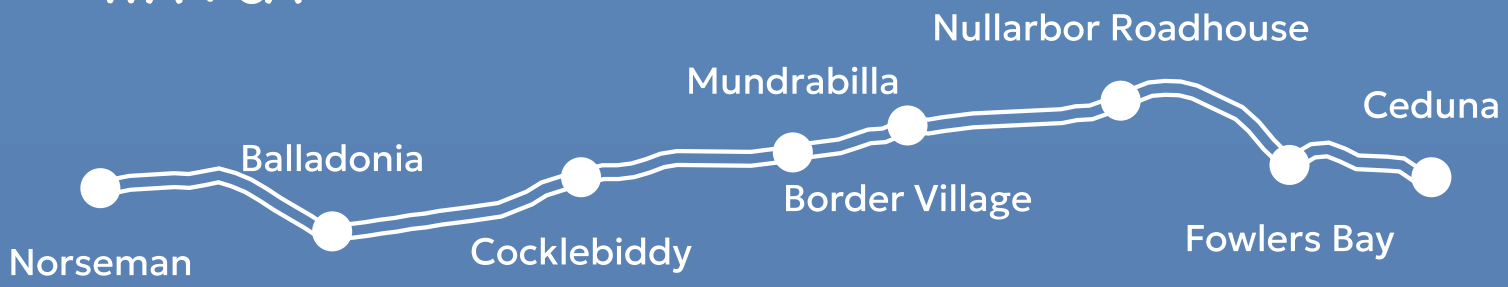
★ FREE SAMPLE ★

ROUTES

CROSSING THE NULLARBOR

1,250 km
4-7 days
WA + SA



Wildlife Warning Sign on the Nullarbor

Free sample · Choose your Routes: campsaustraliawide.com/go/nullarbor

Bunda Cliffs, South Australia

Crossing the Nullarbor

Norseman, WA → Ceduna, SA ★ 1,250 km ★ 4–7 days
★ June-October for climate and Head of Bight whale watching

It's no wonder the Nullarbor Crossing is on the bucket list! It hosts the world's largest limestone plain, longest golf course, longest line of sea cliffs, and Australia's longest straight road.

Nullarbor means "no tree" and is an Aussie icon on the Eyre Highway that boasts 1,100 km treeless plain between Norseman in Western Australia to Ceduna in South Australia.

The Head of Bight was not only our highlight of the route, but one of the best wildlife wows of our lap. I had learned about the Great Australian Bight at school, and to see its vast beauty AND pods of Southern Right Whales was a thrill.

One of our travellers says that he's crossed the Nullarbor 16 times, and it never gets boring. The fireside sunsets, the roadhouse welcomes, lookouts, blowholes, free camps, feral camels, ruins half-buried in dunes, and a whale nursery - this drive holds much more than the map lets on.

The Eyre Highway is sealed the whole way and well within reach of a 2WD or caravan, with roadhouses spaced for fuel, meals and overnight stops. The 18-hole par 72 course spans 1,365 km along the Eyre Highway, with one hole at each participating town or roadhouse from Kalgoorlie in WA to Ceduna in SA.

Watch us talk about this route on our Blog: www.campsaustraliawide.com/crossing-the-nullarbor-our-adventure-from-western-australia-into-south-australia

Highlights

- ✓ Free camps, big-sky sunsets, massive roadtrains and signs that will stop you in your tracks - including the 90 Mile Straight
- ✓ Beaches, jetties, caves, blowholes, outback roadhouses, history and ruins
- ✓ The dramatic Bunda Cliffs and the Great Australian Bight
- ✓ Whale watching at the Head of Bight
- ✓ Tee off on the Nullarbor Links

Tips

Fuel up at every roadhouse. Carry plenty of drinking water. Quarantine checkpoints are at Ceduna (heading east), or the border (travelling west), so plan your meals to use up fresh fruit, vegetables and other restricted produce. Check the time zone at each stop.

Caiguna, WA

Fowlers Bay, SA by Overland Exposure

Head of Bight Whale Watching, SA

Your trip at a glance

Crossing the Nullarbor ★ 1,250 km ★ 4–7 days

		DISTANCE	SUGGESTED OVERNIGHT STOP
01	Norseman to Balladonia, WA In the full Route	218 km	Newman Rock
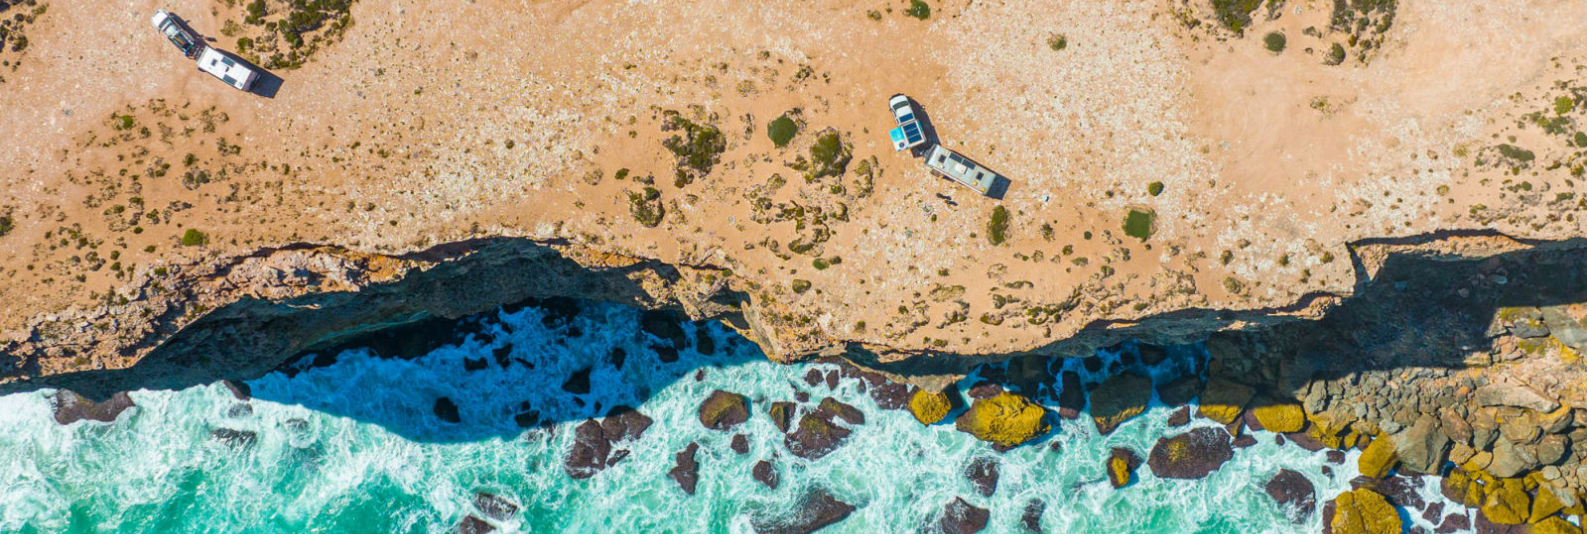
02	Balladonia to Cocklebiddy, WA In the full Route	219 km	Caiguna Blowhole or other rest areas
05	Border Village to Nullarbor Roadhouse, SA In this sample	184 km	Koonalda Homestead

4 more legs in the full Route

Free sample · Choose your Routes: campsaustraliawide.com/go/nullarbor



05 Border Village to Nullarbor Roadhouse, SA

184 km

This is what you have been waiting for - the most scenic stretch of the crossing. Bunda Cliffs run for the longest continuous line of sea cliffs in the world - 90 metres straight down to the Southern Ocean, with multiple lookout points off the highway.

Note that the previous Bunda Cliffs camping areas have been closed due to dangerous cliff slippage, so admire from the lookouts only.

Roll into Nullarbor Roadhouse, marked by its big whale sculpture, for fuel, a meal and an overnight - and go looking for the camel, wombat and kangaroo warning sign just outside, one of the most photographed road signs on the Nullarbor.

Must see and do

* Bunda Cliffs lookouts (no pets, no camping; admire from above, look out for dolphins, too)
* Golf at Dingo's Den and the big whale sculpture at Nullarbor Roadhouse
* Selfie sign: the camel, wombat and kangaroo wildlife warning sign near the Nullarbor Roadhouse
* Sunset over the plain - bring a chair and a quiet drink

Side trips

* The abandoned sheep station, Koonalda Homestead, near a collection of dented old cars and an underground cave system that once supplied the property's water
* Murrawijinie Caves - 10 km north of Nullarbor Roadhouse, take the unsealed track to limestone sinkholes and a third cavern where you can view from the rock floor (free)

Where to camp

Koonalda Homestead
$ • no pets • 4WD • heritage
OUR PICK

Nullarbor Roadhouse
$ • pets • meals and fuel

Rest areas
free • pets

Read more on our blog

Search Bunda Cliffs

Search Koonalda Homestead

Image: Bunda Cliffs, South Australia

There’s more where that came from

Crossing the Nullarbor ★ 1,250 km ★ 4–7 days

What’s in the full Route

01	Norseman to Balladonia, WA	218 km
02	Balladonia to Cocklebiddy, WA	219 km
+4	4 more legs, each with camps, must-sees and blog links

* 10 essential tips every traveller should know
* ROUTES 101: things to remember before you set out

1 Route	$12.99
Pick any 3 Most popular	$29
Pick any 5	$39

Choose your Routes

campsaustraliawide.com/go/nullarbor

© 2026 Camps Australia Wide Pty Ltd · ABN 17 624 459 212
Our guides are general information only and not advice. Conditions change, so check local road rules, signage and site information before you travel.

Image: Head of Bight Whale Watching, SA